DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In line 3 of claim 9, "the home-bar door" lacks clear antecedent basis. The home-bar door is first claimed in claim 8, not claim 5, from which claim 9 depends. Claim 10 depends from claim 9, so it is unclear due to its dependency on an unclear claim. It is noted that in line 5 of claim 20, "electrically" should be --electrical--.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yun (6,682,161).

Art Unit: 3744

Yun shows a refrigerator having a seat 22 for a display pad 10b. The display is held in holder 10a, which is connected with a hinge 11 and a locking means 12 to the seat in the refrigerator door. In regard to claim 13, it is noted that the lower portion of pad 10b as well as the locking means which fastens the lower part of the display, change height when pivoted from the refrigerator door.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yun (6,682,161) in view of Saito et al (5,719,645).

Yun discloses applicants' basic inventive concept, a refrigerator having a display that is movable in seat in the refrigerator door, substantially as claimed with the exception of using upper and lower clamps with hinge assemblies to permit the display to pivot in opposite directions. Figures 6 and 7 of Saito show display 50 pivoting in opposite directions using upper 55a and lower 55b clamps in the seating space so that the seating space walls enclose the upper or lower end of the display, depending on which end is used as a pivot, and hinge assemblies 70A and 70B fixing the clamps in place, while allowing rotation when a predetermined force acts on the upper or lower portion of the display. In regard to claim 19, Official Notice is taken that radio frequency signals to activate a noise producing means are well known in the separable control art (as is common in wireless telephone handsets and television remote controls) and as such would have been obvious to an ordinary practitioner in the art to enable quick locating of the removable device.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4,6-12,14-18,20 and 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Silverbrook et al, Hartstein, Eastman and Roh show refrigerators with display mountings. Gombrich et al and Matsuo et al show pivoting display connections.
